My name is Victoria “Tia” Wolfe, and I am excited to be running for a seat on the Camp Hill Borough Council. I am 31 years old, and my family and I moved to the Country Club Hills neighborhood of Camp Hill in early 2021. A native of South-Central Pennsylvania, I’ve always been passionate about the region I call home. My husband, Andy, and I are proud parents to our two-year-old son, Graham, and our family enjoys everything that makes Camp Hill such a wonderful place to live—great schools, beautiful parks and recreational areas, and a welcoming and safe community.

As a newer resident with a young and growing family, I am eager to bring those perspectives to the Borough Council, with a focus on maintaining Camp Hill’s strong sense of community while addressing the needs of its residents. My goal is to work together with local leaders and neighbors to keep our borough a great place for families to grow, thrive, and connect.

This is my first foray into local politics, and I admittedly have a lot to learn, and experience to gain, but I am inspired by and passionate about becoming an example for my peers to get involved with local government.
